Bury Your Savior

I let your winter share my bed
And warmed the prayers you left for dead
You laid your roses at my feet
Their thorns were all I had to eat

Your heaven kneels outside my door
I let it in. It asks for more

Heaven sleeps
Inside my ribs
Calls me holy
While it feeds

Bury your savior
Let the angels starve
Love me useless
Love me scarred

Your candles drink the evening dry
I keep them lit. They watch me die
You kissed the hands that brought you bread
And named them evil once they bled

In bedtime stories, I'm the knight
You feign your sleep, and dim the light

Heaven sleeps
Inside my ribs
Calls me holy
While it feeds

Bury your savior
Let the angels starve
Love me useless
Love me scarred

Let the mouths go hungry
Let the candles drown
If you want what's breathing
Lay your heaven down

Heaven starves
Inside my ribs
Calls me evil
And it still feeds

Bury your savior
Let the angels starve
Love me useless
Blame me still

(Love me scarred)
Your hand stays
The children sleep
(Love me scarred)
